Good day folks

- This week's news is mostly about the proposed produce show which will be held in September.
- Vegetables, Fruit, Flowers, Baking, Preserves, Drinks and Craft
- It will be a great opportunity to display the new found skills you have acquired over lockdown - or maybe honed if you are not so new to the game!
- Anna and Rob Gilkes are kindly organising this and the initial schedule is attached. It looks very comprehensive to me and there must be something there for everyone. It would be good if most everyone entered into the spirit and entered at least one item. I hope to circulate entry forms before long, so for now just decide which classes you are class leading in and start preparing!

The only other snippet this week is our church will not be opening for private prayer tomorrow. I am not privy to the reasons so can only refer you to the church wardens if you are concerned.

With best wishes
